

The Shift is the Belgian meeting point for any individual or organisation that has an ambition to make a difference for present and future generations. We help members develop sustainable business models and innovative projects. Each member of The Shift is clearly committed to contributing to this goal and to moving forward together in the field of sustainable development.

CONNECT

The Shift wants to encourage partnerships between its members. We offer a trusted environment where our members can come together and inspire each other to create new transformational models. The Shift strives to achieve an intensive collaboration between 'unusual suspects': individuals, associations, companies, governments, NGOs and anyone who actively contributes to building a sustainable world. The Shift facilitates exchanges and dialogues between its members. To this end, members show respect, openness and transparency in their relations with each other.

COMMIT

Organisations around the world can use the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals framework to work towards a more sustainable society together. The Shift has translated these goals into a set of tangible themes. Each member engages itself to formulate their societal ambitions, whether or not based on these themes, and to take the necessary steps to realise those ambitions.

CHANGE

Each member of The Shift has the intention to contribute to the realisation of our organisation's mission. Shaping a unique multi-actor network, The Shift challenges its members to co-create tangible and innovative projects in the field of sustainability in Belgium.

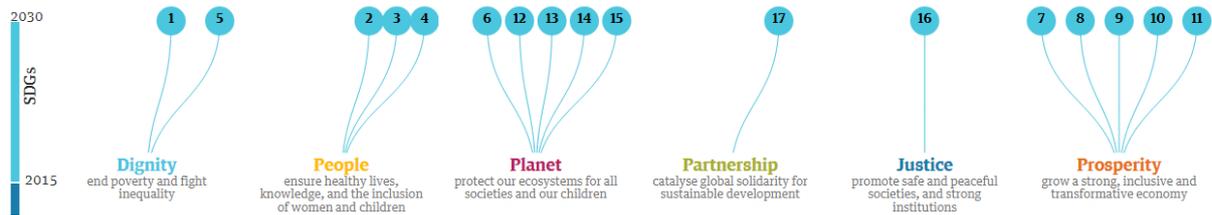

By signing this membership charter, the organisation joins a network where collaboration is a central part of our identity and mission. Therefore The Shift does not offer individual services to its members. Each member underwrites The Shift statutes and domestic regulations and commits to comply with them.
